Mona Plummer Aquatic Center

The Mona Plummer Aquatic Center, located at the intersection of Veterans Way and College Street on the campus of Arizona State University, is regarded as one of the country's finest outdoor swimming and diving facilities.

The plant, which opened in July, 1981, consists of three pools — an Olympic-size, 50 meter by 25 yards, seven-foot deep competition pool with a movable bulkhead; a 25-yard, 18-foot diving well; and a 25-yard eight-lane warm-up pool.

The complex also offers a diving tower. The tower has three platforms (5, 7.5 and 10 meters), four springboards and a pair of 1- and 3-meter boards, which flank the tower.

The Mona Plummer Aquatic Center, which seats 2,000 spectators, was host to the 1993 and 1998 Pac-10 Diving Championships. In 1999 it hosted the NCAA Zone E Diving Championships. The complex also served as the site to the Pac-10 and NCAA Zone E Diving Championships in 1991 and 1989. Other notable events which have been held at the complex include the 1990 U.S. Junior National Diving Championship, the 1988 USS Junior National West Region Championship, the U.S. Masters Diving Championship and a 1988 competition between ASU and Team USA prior to the Olympic Games. In 1983 the WCAA Championship and a water polo exhibition between the U.S. National team and ASU also took place at the complex.

The formal dedication for the aquatic center was held Oct. 31, 1986 after the Arizona State Board of Regents named the facility on Mar. 1, 1985, after the late Mona Plummer.

Plummer, who passed away during the spring of 1985, served as the head women's swimming coach for 22 years (1957-79) at ASU and coached the Sun Devils to eight national championships. She was named assistant athletic director in 1975 before being promoted to associate athletic director duties in 1977.

While at ASU, Plummer tutored nine Olympians and nearly four dozen all-Americans. The graduate of the University of Alabama was selected the national coach of the year in 1979, when the Sun Devils finished second at the AIAW Championships after winning the 1977 and 1978 titles. ASU captured the national crown from 1967 through 1974.

"She was the premier swimming coach during her era and her success helped all other women's sports at Arizona State University prosper," said former ASU associate athletic director Herman Frazier. "The dedication of our aquatic center could not have gone to a better person."

Arizona State UNIVERSITY

The Arizona State main campus is located on 722 acres in the heart of downtown Tempe and just minutes from the busy nightlife of Mill Avenue. With its shady malls, cool fountains, lush plantings, Arizona State's campus has long been known as an "oasis in the desert."

ASU's Tempe campus offers more than 100 majors through eight colleges and schools, 94 bachelors degree programs, 92 masters degrees, a highly regarded law degree and 51 doctoral degrees.

The Barrett Honors College is recognized as one of the nation's best. Its 2005-2006 freshmen class had an average SAT score of 1,318 and included 155 National Merit Scholars. Almost 100 percent of students in the college who apply to medical and law school are accepted. The college was also named one of the nation's top honors colleges in Reader's Digest's 100 Best Issue.

ASU ranks fourth among public universities in the U.S. in the number of freshman National Merit Scholars. There are currently 532 National Merit Scholars currently studying at ASU.

Longtime lead announcer for ABC's Monday Night Football and the current play-by-play voice of NBC's Sunday Night Football, Al Michaels is one of several prominent alumni to have attended Arizona State.

Life in THE VALLEY

With its spectacular desert landscaping and colorful sunsets, the Valley of the Sun is home to 2.3 million people and is the vacation destination for 10 million people annually.

The Sporting News named Phoenix the fourth-best sports city in the United States in 2000.

Concerts and block parties are just part of the bustling nightlife of Mill Avenue, a restaurant district that is the center of activity in downtown Tempe.

The Phoenix sports scene includes the Suns of the NBA, the Mercury of the WNBA, the Coyotes of the NHL, the Cardinals of the NFL, the Rattlers of the Arena Football League and the 2001 World Champion Arizona Diamondbacks of MLB in addition to the hometown Arizona State Sun Devils.

ASU's own Sun Devil Stadium, located on the banks of Tempe Town Lake, is home to the Insight Bowl and has played host to four national championship games and one Super Bowl.

The Phoenix metropolitan area boasts over 325 days of sunshine each year with an average temperature of 85 degrees.

Tempe is home to the P.F. Chang's Rock 'N' Roll Marathon, which ends just outside Sun Devil Stadium.

Athletic FACILITIES

The Sun Devils have had several distinguished alumni over the years, spanning the realm of both entertainment and sports. The founder of the Tonight Show on NBC, Steve Allen, attended Arizona State during the 1990s (14). Al Michaels (11), play-by-play announcer for ABC's Monday Night Football, graduated in 1966. Actress Lynda Carter (3), best known for her role as Wonder Woman, and actor Nick Nolte (5), 48 Hours and Prince of Tides, also attended college in Tempe. Former New Jersey Net Byron Scott (2) and Golden State Warrior Ike Diogu (10) both wore maroon and gold during their college careers, as did baseball legends Mr. October Reggie Jackson (7) and future hall of famer Barry Bonds (4). Dwight Phillips (12) represented the Devils on the track in the Olympic Games, winning long jump gold at Athens 2004, as did Herman Frazier (8), who is also the current Athletic Director at the University of Hawaii. (6) Phil Mickelson has been a mainstay on the PGA Tour and won the 2004 Masters. Former Dallas Cowboys quarterback Danny White (9) and Denver Broncos quarterback Jake Plummer (13) both served as signal callers on the gridiron for the Devils, but perhaps the most well-known Sun Devil student-athlete alumni is Pat Tillman (1), who in 2001 walked away from a contract with the Arizona Cardinals to join the U.S. Army Rangers in the war with Iraq. He was killed in action in 2004.

Head Coach Michael Chasson

Beginning his tenth year as head coach for the Arizona State swimming teams, Michael Chasson has guided the Sun Devils to success levels not seen in Tempe for over 15 years. As the first coach to officially head both the men's and women's swimming programs at ASU, he arrived on campus in 1998 with the dual challenge of rebuilding both programs into top-level national finishers annually. The progress the teams have made under Chasson's watch is evident.

The success brought by Chasson was evident last season as the women's team finished 16th overall and the men finished in the top 25. Caitlin Andrew set new school records in 50 free, 100 free and 100 fly, as well as earned All-American accolades for her third consecutive season. The women's 200 and 400 medley as well as the 200 free relay team also earned All-American honors. CJ Nuess garnered All-American accolades in the 1650 free and 400 IM. Chasson also led Gal Nevo to a Pac-10 Championship in the 400 IM.

In 2006, ASU's men's team finished in the NCAA top-20 for a fifth consecutive season, and Chasson's swimmers earned a total of six All-America honors, and six new school records were established over the course of the season. The women's team was headlined by Caitlin Andrew, who set new school records in the 100 free, 100 back and 100 fly events, while the men's team was guided by All-Americans Lucas Azevedo and Gal Nevo.

In 2004-05, both the men's and women's teams finished in the NCAA top-20 for the fourth consecutive year, as well as a fifth (men) and sixth (women) place finishes in the Pac-10. In just his fifth season with the Sun Devils, Chasson led both the men's and women's teams to top-12 NCAA finishes, the first time that has happened since 1987 and only the third time in Sun Devil history.

Equally significant to Chasson has been ASU's performance beyond the national standings, tallying 51 school records, over 200 All-America honors and the fourth NCAA individual event title all-time for men's swimming (Attila Czene, 200 IM, 2000). In his short tenure, his coaching talents have attracted the likes of Olympic gold medalists Attila Czene and Ágnes Kovács to Tempe to don the maroon and gold, in addition to Pan American Games medalists Nick Brunelli and Florencia Szigeti. Chasson has also had his own international experiences, serving as an Olympic coach for the Egypt swim team in the 2004 Athens Summer Olympic Games.

When Chasson arrived at Arizona State, the men finished 16th in his inaugural season of 1999, with the women placing 23rd. The men then earned only their fourth top-10 finish in 13 seasons in 2000 (10th) and followed it up with 14th-place finishes in 2001 and 2002. The women meanwhile rattled off back-to-back 21st-place efforts in '00 and '01, and then cracked the top 10 for the first time since the 1993 season with a 10th place finish at the NCAA's in '02, a feat they repeated '03.

Chasson's Sun Devils have been equally impressive in the classroom. The 2004 squad produced the highest team GPA in school history for the swimming program. In 2003 the women's squad came off a year that saw the CSCAA recognize the entire group as "superior" academically, the highest level a team can achieve, while four women were named first-team Academic All-Americans. Over the past six years, both the men and the women have collected an impressive 108 Pac-10 All-Academic honors.

All the while, Chasson has not forgotten the greater community around him. Every fall and spring, in a generous service, Chasson turns his student athletes into teachers by offering inexpensive swimming lessons to children and adults.

Chasson, came to Arizona State from Harvard University, where he led the Crimson to six Eastern Seaboard Championships and seven NCAA appearances in seven seasons.

His best run at Harvard came in his final season of 1997-98, when the school qualified nine swimmers for the NCAA Championships and finished 11th. During his tenure in Cambridge, Mass., Crimson swimmers broke 27 school records and earned All-America honors 35 times.

Success came quickly to Chasson, who led Harvard to the NCAA Championships in his very first season with a 21st-place finish. A three-time Ivy League Coach of the Year, Chasson also led Harvard squads to the NCAA's in 1996 (16th) and '97 (18th) and compiled a 68-11 record.

In 1997, Chasson was the head men's swimming coach for the U.S. national team at the World University Games and in 1993 he was an assistant for the USA Pan Pacific Team.

Before arriving at Harvard in July of 1991, Chasson spent three seasons as an assistant women's coach at Stanford. During his time on The Farm, Chasson worked with Olympic coach Richard Quick in leading the Cardinal to one NCAA Championship ('89) and a pair of NCAA runner-up finishes ('90, '91). Chasson, whose primary task was to coach the breaststrokers and sprinters, was instrumental in the development of NCAA Champions Jill Johnson, Janel Jorgensen and Lori Heisick, as well as eight other NCAA All-Americans.

Chasson brings a coaching philosophy to ASU that breeds attention and results. "I think if you want to achieve success then you want to have high goals," says Chasson. "I think the teams have to take their training to a higher level so they can start achieving those kinds of goals."

From a training standpoint, Chasson believes that his swimmers need to develop a strong aerobic base. Once that base is established, then his coaching is concentrated on trying to make the swimmers excel at their best events.

"I believe there has to be great communication between the coaches and the athletes," says Chasson. "We are constantly trying to make sure they know what is expected and that we as a coaching staff are available for whatever concerns there may be."

Chasson graduated from Stanford in 1974 with a bachelor's degree in political science, and earned his teaching credential in secondary education from San Jose State University in 1977. He began his coaching career as the head coach of the Los Altos Aquatic Club (Los Altos, Calif.) in 1974 and spent six years there before accepting the same position at the Santa Barbara Swim Club (SBSC) in Santa Barbara, Calif. During his tenure at the SBSC, Chasson placed swimmers in the top-eight at nine senior nationals. SBSC placed in the top-10 in team scoring five times in Chasson's eight years at the club. Chasson also tutored swimmers at the SBSC who placed at the World Championships and Pan American Games. Among the pupils he coached at the SBSC was Richard Schroeder, a gold medalist in the 1988 Olympic Games in Seoul.

Chasson's wife, Jill, was a 1992 Olympian competing in the 200 breaststroke. The couple are proud parents of Alex, born on May 22, 2000 and Caroline, born on November 4, 2002.

Head Diving Coach Mark Bradshaw

Mark Bradshaw returns for his 11th year at the helm of the Arizona State diving program where his impact on the program has been unmistakable, generating nine All-Americans while writing and rewriting ASU record book in 11 of 14 diving disciplines.

Bradshaw's success as head diving coach continued to grow in the 2007 season. Newcomer Micky Benedetti quickly set on course to follow the tradition of excellence set by previous ASU divers. Benedetti finished his debut season runner-up on platform at the NCAA Championships and also earned All-American accolades in the 1 and 3 meter. Benedetti also won the Pac-10 Championship in the 3 meter and platform.

In 2006, Bradshaw guided seniors Brant Bingham and Joona Puhakka to NCAA Championship appearances, where Puhakka was the national runner-up in both the one-meter and three-meter diving events. Puhakka earned Pac-10 and Zone E Diving championships in both events, becoming an eight-time champion at both invitationals and earned All-America honors in each event.

The 2005 season saw Bradshaw lead the ASU diving program to more successes, capturing three Pac-10 titles and two NCAA titles. Bradshaw was named 2005 NCAA Diving Coach of the Year and has won four straight men's Pac-10 Diving Coach of the Year awards, while also earning the women's Pac-10 Diving Coach of the Year award in 2004.

Bradshaw guided Joona Puhakka to his fourth national championship, winning both the 1-meter and 3-meter events at the 2005 NCAA's. Under Bradshaw's tutelage, Puhakka achieved tremendous success during his third year in Tempe. In addition to sweeping the springboard events at the NCAA meet, the native of Finland, has won six Pac-10 championships and has swept the 1-meter and 3-meter events at the Zone E Diving Championships.

Bradshaw also saw successes on the women's side, as departed senior Trisha Tumlinson set several school records en route to winning Pac-10 titles in the platform (2004-05) and the 3-meter (2004) as well as the platform and 1-meter events at the Zone E Diving Championships. In 2004, Tumlinson placed second at the NCAA Championships on the platform. Puhakka and Tumlinson were both named Pac-10 Diver of the Year in 2004, while Puhakka has won the award three straight years.

In 2003, Bradshaw took two newcomers to the Sun Devil program - one man and one woman - to the NCAA Championships, where those student-athletes brought home three medals, including one NCAA title. Bradshaw's outstanding leadership earned him the highest honor in the program's history when he was named the 2003 men's NCAA Diving Coach of the Year. He was also named the men's Pac-10 Diving Coach of the Year.

Bradshaw guided Puhakka to the first national title for a Sun Devil male diver in 35 years. Puhakka set four school records, won both the 1-meter and 3-meter titles at the Pac-10 Championships and took first in both the 1-meter and 3-meter events at the Zone E Diving Championships. Bradshaw saw his protégé go the entire season without being beaten on the 1-meter springboard and also become the first male diver in Sun Devil history to win two Pac-10 championships in the same year.

Bradshaw also coached Tumlinson to a third place finish at the NCAA's on the platform and saw her break three school records. Puhakka and Tumlinson were both named the Pac-10 Newcomers of the Year while Puhakka was also named Pac-10 Diver of the Year. Bradshaw's knack for developing new talent is well-known as only one year prior he guided Thomas McCrummen to Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year status.

Among his prior standout divers was All-American Marc Briggs, who in just two seasons with Bradshaw accumulated five school records and the first Pac-10 Championship for men's diving since 1983 (3-meter, 2000).

Bradshaw came to ASU from Ohio University, where he helped lead the women to a second-place finish and the men to a fifth-place showing at the 1997 Mid-American Conference Championships. Bradshaw's successful stint at Ohio University is exemplified by the fact he was named head coach at mid-season.

Prior to coaching at Ohio, Bradshaw was the first full-time diving coach hired at the United States Military Academy. It did not take long for Bradshaw to make his mark as he was named the Metro Conference Diving Coach of the Year after his first year.

Bradshaw prides himself on running a diving program that provides opportunities for the student-athletes to work hard toward achieving their goals. He strongly believes that "you get exactly what you put into it."

Bradshaw implemented that same philosophy in making himself a world-class diver. A member of the U.S. National Diving Team for 16 years, Bradshaw won a slew of awards including the United States/Phillips 66 Diver of the Year, and the 1990 U.S. Male Diver of the Year. In addition, Bradshaw was also a seven-time national champion.

Bradshaw has a great deal of international experience as well, having competed in the F.I.N.A. World Cup, World University Games and the World Aquatic Championships. He is also a two-time silver medalist in the Pan American Games. Bradshaw reached the pinnacle of international competition when he competed at the 1988 Olympic Games in Seoul, placing fifth in the 3-meter competition.

Bradshaw, who graduated from Ohio State with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1985 and a master's degree in the same discipline in 1987, was a four-year NCAA All-American in the 1 and 3-meter events. He not only dove with great technique, but with great consistency as well. Bradshaw was named the Big Ten Diver of the Year two consecutive years and was the Big Ten diving champion three times in a four-year span. In addition, he was also named the MVP of the Buckeyes' squad in 1982, '83 and '84. The highlight of Bradshaw's collegiate career came in 1983 when he was crowned the NCAA's 3-meter champion.

In 1993, Ohio State recognized Bradshaw's great career by inducting him into the school's athletic Hall of Fame.

A native of Springfield, Ore., Bradshaw graduated from Springfield High School in 1980, where he was a four-year Oregon state diving champion, four-year letterman, two-time All-America and school MVP.

Though Bradshaw's collegiate roots are embedded in the Big Ten, his pedigree has a Pac-10 flavor. His mother was a cheerleader at Washington State and his father a varsity baseball player at Oregon State.

An avid golfer, Bradshaw enjoys outdoor activities when he is not coaching. He has one son, Cameron (17).

Annemarie Miskovic
Associate Head Coach

Annemarie Miskovic begins her fifth season as a member of the coaching staff with the Arizona State swimming and diving program. After a year as an assistant coach, Miskovic got elevated to Associate Head Coach in 2004 and also serves as the women's recruiting coordinator.

A native of Rijeka, Croatia, Miskovic returned to Tempe following four years at the University of Virginia. After earning her Bachelor of Science degree in Exercise Science and Physical Education from the University of Zagreb in 1996, Miskovic came to ASU and served as a volunteer assistant coach (1996-98), while she was working on her master's degree in motor learning and development.

In her duties with the team, Miskovic works primarily with the backstroke, butterfly and individual medley specialists. During her tenure with the Sun Devil women's swimmers, she worked with stroke and individual medley student-athletes, culminating with former ASU standout Carolyn Adel earning berths into NCAA championship meets. In her first year back with the Sun Devils (2003-04 season), she worked with the individual medley group and coached freshman Amanda Gillespie to a school-record performance in the 800m freestyle relay at the 2004 NCAA Championships that earned the rookie All-America honors. Miskovic also coached several of the Sun Devils swimmers that represented their nations at the 2004 Athens Olympics. In 2005 Miskovic guided former ASU standout backstroke Ahmed Hussein to three medals at the Mediterranean Games. In her four years at ASU Miskovic coached many Sun Devil swimmers to top 10 performances.

At Virginia, she primarily worked with sprinters on both the men's and women's squads, coaching numerous All-Americans, conference champions and school and conference record holders. She sent athletes to the 2000 Olympic Trials and coached the women's 200 free relay to a conference record and Top 8 finish at the 2002 NCAA Championships. During her four years at UVa, the Cavalier men claimed four ACC titles and progressed from 13th place at NAAs to their first Top 10 finish in 2003. The Cavalier women recorded three ACC runner-up finishes and won the conference title in 2003. Miskovic served as assistant coach at the 2002 USA Swimming All Star Distance Camp in Colorado Springs. Miskovic also brings the experience of age group coaching with Pine Crest, Sun Devil Aquatics and the Charlottesville Youth Aquatic Club, in addition to six years of coaching with the renowned Croatian swim club, Mladost, where in 1996 she won a national age group title with swimmers 12 and under. Miskovic is married to Neal Rioux, the couple currently resides in Tempe.

Simon Percy
Assistant Coach

Simon Percy, a 13-year coaching veteran, returns for a second season as an assistant swimming coach at ASU and is also the Sun Devil Masters head coach. He is also in his first year as the men's recruiting coordinator. Percy swam at ASU from 1990-94, and ranks fourth in ASU history in the 200 IM and eighth in the 400 IM. He also competed in the 1991 World Championships, 1992 Olympics and the 1992 Pan-Pac's for his native New Zealand.

Percy is married to wife Suzanne and the couple resides in Tempe, Ariz.

Kyle Schack
Assistant Coach

Kyle Schack joins the Sun Devil swimming program as an assistant coach. The Huntington Woods, Mich., native comes to Tempe after a season as the head coach of Alma College in Alma, Mich., and assistant coach of Longhorn Aquatics. He also earned experience as a staff member of the 2007 USA Swimming Zone Select Camp.

Prior to his head coaching experience at Alma College, Schack was the assistant coach for Harvard University's men's swimming team as well as a senior and junior coach for the Bay and Ocean State Squids in Boston. Schack also served as West Virginia University's graduate assistant from 2003-2004 where he earned his M.B.A.

Schack began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant coach at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y., and as a junior coach for the Schenectady Swim Club.

Schack earned his bachelor's degree in economics from Union College in Schenectady, N.Y.

Coaches/Support Staff

Nick Brunelli
Assistant Coach

Nick Brunelli returns for a second season as an assistant coach. Brunelli is one of the most decorated swimmers in ASU history, earning four All-America distinctions, the 2004 Pac-10 Medal and the 2004 Pac-10 Championship in the 200 free.

A Mansfield, Mass. native, Brunelli is a three-time U.S. Open Champion. This past summer he finished third in the 50 free at the ConocoPhillips USA Swimming Nationals.

Eric Bugby
Graduate Assistant

Eric Bugby enters his first season with the ASU Swimming program. He swam for the University of Pittsburgh and Duquesne University. Bugby qualified for the 2004 Olympic Trials and ended 2003 with a world ranking in the 100 back. An Easton, Pennsylvania native, Bugby is pursuing a masters in Higher Education.

Christina DeSantis
Sports Performance Coach

Christina DeSantis comes back for a second season as the Sports Performance Coach of the Arizona State Swimming and Diving program.

Originally from Binghamton, New York, Christina earned her Bachelor of Science Degree in Exercise Science from the State University of New York at Buffalo where she was a two-year letter winner in the Pole Vault on the Track and Field team. She earned her strength and conditioning specialist certification in 2005 and is currently working on her Masters of Education in Higher and Post secondary Education.

Jacob Fischer
Team Manager (1st Year)

Patrick Nalley
Volunteer Assistant Coach

Patrick Nalley enters his first season as a volunteer assistant coach for the Sun Devils. The Cincinnati, Ohio native swam for the University of Kentucky where he got a B.S. in Finance and Marketing. He has served as head coach at Liberty High School in Colorado as well as numerous club teams prior to coming to Tempe. He also coaches Sun Devil Aquatics.

Tim Weesner
Athletic Trainer

Tim Weesner comes back for a second season as athletic trainer for the Arizona State Swimming and Diving program. Weesner previously worked as a graduate assistant athletic trainer with Iowa State University's Women's Swimming and Diving teams during the 2004-05 and 2005-06 seasons.

Weesner graduated from Iowa State University in 2003 with a B.S. in Exercise Science, and earned his Master's Degree from Iowa State University in 2006.

Weesner is married to wife Molly, and has a daughter, Ellie (2).

Jen Jaeckels
Media Relations

Jen Jaeckels joins the Sun Devils swimming and diving staff as the media relations contact.

Jaeckels earned her B.A. in Journalism and Mass Communications from ASU's prestigious Cronkite School in May 2007. Prior to working full-time for her alma mater, the Santa Maria, Calif., native served as a student intern in ASU's sports information department for three years. Along with swimming and diving, Jaeckels also handles the media relations responsibilities of gymnastics, men's tennis and women's golf.

2006-07 Women's Outlook

After a season marked with record-breaking performances, Coach Mike Chasson returns four All-Americans to the 2007-08 squad. Led by three-time All-American Caitlin Andrew, the team looks to improve on its 16th place finish at the NCAA Championships. With the experience of the returnees and the incoming talent, Chasson believes his team has what it takes to break into the top 10 at this year's NCAA Championships.

"Freestyle sprints are one of the strengths of our team," says Chasson, "We have a lot of depth there."

After having six All-Americans last season, Chasson thinks the Sun Devils could add a few more this season in sophomores Ashton Aubry, Ashley Evans and Jess Perazzo, who have had strong summers and have improved after having a year to adjust to a new environment.

The Sun Devils also return three quarters of two of their All-American relay teams.

"Our relay teams are faster than ever," says Chasson, "I expect them to break more school records and score at NCAA Championships again."

The Sun Devils kick-off the 2007-08 season with the Inter-squad Meet on Sept. 21st. The Sun Devils then hit the road to Hawai'i on Sept. 28-29. They stay on the road and head to Las Vegas to take on UNLV on October 13th. The Sun Devils open up their home dual schedule with a four meet homestand, beginning with a two day dual against UCSB on October 26-27. They then host UCLA on Nov. 9 and USC the following day. The Sun Devils end their four meet homestand against Washington State. The team heads to the Lone Star State on Nov. 29-Dec. 1 for their annual trip to the Texas Invite. The Sun Devils return home on Jan. 5 in a quad-meet which includes Oregon State, Purdue and Washington.

After the quad-meet, the Sun Devils travel to the Midwest to compete against Minnesota (Jan. 19) before heading to the Bay Area for two dual meets against Stanford (Jan. 25) and California (Jan. 26). The Sun Devils return home for their last dual meet of the season against interstate rival Arizona (Feb. 16). The Sun Devils cap the regular season at the Pac-10 Championships in Long Beach, Calif. (Feb. 26-March 1).

Sprint Freestyle:

Although the Sun Devils lost Abra Armour to graduation, the 2007-08 squad returns as what Coach Chasson dubs as the "core of the team", three strong freestyle sprinters in Andrew, Jen Beckberger and Lindsey Brown. Andrew, Beckberger and Brown come back for the 2007-08 after achieving All-American status as a relay team at the NCAA Championships last season.

"This is a strong and experienced group," says Chasson, "They should do well at NCAA's this season."

Andrew is the number one all-time Sun Devil swimmer in the 50 freestyle with a personal record of 22.39 and the 100 freestyle with a personal record of 48.50. Beckberger follows her as the third all-time Sun Devil in both events, holding personal-bests of 23.35 in the 50 freestyle and 49.74 in the 100 freestyle.

Jess Perazzo also returns to the Sun Devil squad as a 50 and 100 yard freestyle swimmer. She moved into the number 10 all-time Sun Devil spot as a freshman with a season-record of 23.38. Chasson expects her to step up and take over Armour's place on the squad after a good summer.

"Losing Abra was hard but Jess should step up," says Chasson.

Katie Haron will join the Sun Devils squad as an incoming freshman to help in the freestyle sprint events.

Mid-Distance Free:

While the sprint freestyle core is made up of experienced swimmers, the middle-distance events are not as deep. Ellis Schieman joins Beckberger as the top returning 200 freestyle swimmers.

"Jen and Ellis are pretty much the core of our mid-distance free," says Chasson, "After them we are looking for people to step up in this event."

Beckberger returns to the Sun Devil squad as the number three all-time Sun Devil with a best time of 1:47.89 in the 200 free. The junior is expected to continue to improve on her 200 time and to qualify for the NCAA Championships in the event this season.

Schiemann returns to the team after having a strong summer.

"Ellis should return to her freshman form," says Chasson, "she had a bit of a tough year last year but she's had a good summer and I expect her to be strong in the 200 and 500 free."

Rikka Brunner, Junior

The Sun Devils also welcome freshmen Shannon Garrett and Christine Mauro to help with the 500 freestyle.

Distance Free:

The Sun Devils have only one true distance free swimmer this season. They look to freshman Garrett to lead them in the event. While in dual meets, others will have to step up in the 1000 and 1650 free such as Christine Mauro, Ellis Schieman and Emlynn Tursick.

"Hopefully Shannon will make a quick adjustment and be able to help us in the distance events," says Chasson.

Backstroke:

With the loss of graduating senior and school record breaking backstroker of the school record setting medley relay, Chasson is looking for someone to replace her in the backstroke sprints. He expects Beckberger, along with Mirela Kardasevic, to fill in that void. Andrew, the best backstroker on the team holding ASU's record 100 backstroke time (53.68), could also see some action although she will likely focus more on the butterfly.

Two other swimmers Chasson is counting on to have a good season are Rikka Brunner, and Emlynn Tursick who both primarily compete in the 200 back. Tursick entered her name in the record book as the ninth fastest Sun Devil in the 200 back with a personal best time of 2:01.34 last season.

"Rikka has quickly improved her 200 back," says Chasson, "and Emlynn has had a very good summer, we expect both to help us out in duals this season."

Jamie Martinez, who is coming off shoulder surgery, is expected to compete in the 100 and 200 back, as well as Frankie Judy who has been showing improvement.

Breaststroke:

The Sun Devils return their top breaststroke swimmer in Sara McDaniel. McDaniel entered among the top 10 all-time Sun Devils in the 100 breast this past year with the fifth best time of 1:02.73.

"In the breaststroke sprint, Sara McDaniel is our top returnee," says Chasson, "She has continued to improve over the summer and is our biggest asset in this stroke."

Lindsey Russenberger, who transferred to ASU from the University of Wyoming last season, is also expected to be one of the Sun Devils top breaststrokers.

Jen Beckberger, Junior

2006-07 Women's Outlook

"Hopefully Lindsey has adjusted to ASU to help us out in the 100 and 200 breast," says Chasson. "She has had a good summer."

Chasson is also depending on Ashley Evans to help the Sun Devils out in these two events this year.

"Ashley has the fastest personal best times on the team," says Chasson, "I expect her to return to her form from early in her freshman year. She has been rapidly improving."

Amy Konowalik is another swimmer Chasson is counting on to help in the breaststroke this upcoming season. Konowalik had been to the NCAA Championships as a freshman. Although she was injured last season, Chasson expects her to be healthy and return to her freshman form when she recorded ASU's fifth fastest time in the 200 breast (2:15.19).

Junior Ilene Lesch will also compete in the 100 and 200 breaststroke to add depth.

Butterfly:

The Sun Devils return one of the top butterfly swimmers in the country in three-time All-American Caitlin Andrew. Andrew, who holds the ASU record in the 100 butterfly, leads a small but strong group of swimmers in the 100 and 200 butterfly. This past season Andrew broke her record in the 100 butterfly in the finals at the NCAA Championships touching in 52.02 to place third.

Coming back to the team after a strong freshman season and a very strong summer, Ashton Aubry looks to improve her times.

"Ashton has a lot of potential," says Chasson. "I expect her to do well in the 100 and 200 fly this season."

Ellis Schieman and Jamie Martinez will also compete in the 200 fly. Schieman clocked ASU's eighth fastest time in the event her freshman year.

Individual Medley:

The Sun Devils return four veteran swimmers in the 200 and 400 individual medley. Ashley Evans returns as the fastest IM swimmer from last season. She made her mark in the ASU record book by tying the seventh fastest time in the 200 IM. She continues to improve and looks to qualify for the NCAA Championships this upcoming season.

Another swimmer Chasson is expecting to have a stellar season is Rikka Brunner.

"Rikka could be a big plus to the IM team this year," says Chasson, "She has made a great deal of improvement and has had a great summer"

Sara McDaniel, Sophomore

Chasson is also looking at Lindsey Russenberger and Amy Konowalik to add depth in the IM races.

Relays:

In what is arguably the strength of the team, Coach Chasson expects the relays to continue to improve after having a record-breaking 2006-07 season.

"Our 200 and 400 freestyle teams will be one of the strengths of our team," says Chasson, "They could make the top eight in the nation this season."

Last season the lineup of Caitlin Andrew, Jen Beckberger, Lindsey Brown and Abra Armour set a new Sun Devil record of 1:30.23 in the 200 freestyle relay at the NCAA Championships. With Armour leaving, a replacement is needed for her spot. Chasson sees Jess Perazzo as her likely replacement, although freshman Katie Haron could also fight for a position on the NCAA team.

This season's 400 freestyle relay is also expected to be strong for the Sun Devils. Andrew, Beckberger and Brown, return to the 2007-08 squad after clocking in a new ASU record the previous season with a time of 3:16.68.

The 800 freestyle relay looks to be improved this year with Andrew, Beckberger and Schieman leading the way. Chasson expects a number of swimmers to step up and bid for a spot on this relay.

The All-American honored and ASU record-breaking 200 medley relay team returns three quarters of its team with the loss of Carissa Abe. Beckberger or Mirela Kardasevic are expected to step up and take over Abe position in the backstroke while both Brown or Perazzo could be looking to move into the freestyle leg of the relay. Andrew and McDaniel will continue in the butterfly and breast legs respectively.

The 400 medley team, similar to the 200 medley team, also returns three quarters of its squad, Andrew, Beckberger and McDaniel. Kardasevic and Martinez will be the two likely candidates for the backstroke leg.

Diving:

Head diving coach Mark Bradshaw returns only one athlete to the program and welcomes two newcomers for the 2007-08 season. Erin Hobbs comes back to the team as a junior after struggling in her sophomore season. Bradshaw expects her to turn around and compete like she did as a freshman.

"Erin is legitimate in all three events," says Bradshaw, "I expect her to repeat her freshman season where she placed first and second in dual meets and to qualify for nationals."

Freshman Brittany Jumer comes to the Sun Devil squad bringing a lot of talent. Solid in all three events, Bradshaw sees her finishing at the Pac-10 championships and making the zone meet.

"Brittany is a very consistent diver with an elegant look to her dives," says Bradshaw, "We need to rely on her to score in the dual meets."

Bradshaw also welcomes freshman walk-on Kristi Dougan who brings with her a background in gymnastics.

"Kristi is a welcome addition to the program and having her presence will help us out," says Bradshaw.

"I think she will do a good job competing in the Pac-10 championships and could qualify for zone."

2006-07 Women's Review

Facing a challenging schedule among a talented Pac-10 conference during the 2005-06 season, ASU's women's swimming and diving team posted a 3-8 overall dual meet record, finishing 1-5 in the Pac-10...five of the conference teams against which ASU competed finished in the top-20 at the NCAA's...ASU finished sixth at the Pac-10 Championships and 29th at 2006 Women's Swimming and Diving NCAA Championships in Athens, Ga....the women's team qualified two swimmers (Caitlin Andrew and Amy Konowalik) and one diver (Erin Hobbs) for the NCAA's...Andrew finished as the national runner-up in the 100-yard butterfly, posting an ASU record time of 52.23...Hobbs placed 23rd in platform diving, 31st in the 1m springboard and 33rd in the 3m springboard diving events...Andrew also received All-America recognition in the 100-yard butterfly...eight Sun Devils earned recognition as College Swimming Coaches Association of America (CSCAA) Academic All-Americans, headlined by Caitlin Andrew, whose 4.19 grade point average was the highest among all NCAA swimmers and divers last season...Amy Konowalik also earned first-team recognition, while Christine Creek, Sarah Fischer, Kathryn Hennessy, Heidi

Schmidt, Sandra Steffensen and Laura Ullrich all received honorable mention honors...ASU also placed 14 of its 26 women's swimmers and divers on Pac-10 All-Academic teams, highlighted by first-team honors given to Andrew and Jill Kripps and second team honors by diver Cassidy Farwell...at the 2006 Pac-10 Conference Championships in Long Beach, Calif., Caitlin Andrew finished second in the 100-yard butterfly and fourth in the 100-yard backstroke and Sarah Fischer placed sixth in the 1650-yard freestyle...ASU's 400-yard freestyle relay team placed third and the 200-yard freestyle team placed fourth at the Pac-10 Championships...Cassidy Farwell finished sixth at the Pac-10 Diving Championships in Federal Way, Wash....Caitlin Andrew continued to make Sun Devil history in a variety of ways, establishing three new school records during the season...Andrew set the standard in the 100 freestyle (49.33), and broke her own ASU records in the 100 backstroke (53.81) and the 100 butterfly (52.23)...her performances enabled her to match Agnes Kovacs as the only ASU women's swimmers to hold three individual school records...Andrew also established personal bests while recording ASU's second-best 50 freestyle and 200 backstroke times in school history...Jen Beckberger quickly entered the ASU record books, recording the fourth-fastest 100 freestyle, the seventh-best 50 freestyle and the ninth-best 200 freestyle times in Sun Devil history...Amy Konowalik and Christine Creek respectively recorded the fifth- and sixth-fastest 200 breaststroke times in ASU history...Ellis Schieman submitted the eighth-best 200 butterfly finish, Erin Baldinger posted the ninth-fastest 100 backstroke time and Heidi Schmidt recorded the 10th-best 100 breaststroke finish in team history...ASU also fielded 200-yard and 400-yard freestyle relay squads that recorded top-five all-time Sun Devil finishes.
