The ASU men finished fourth at the Pac-10 Championships (hosted by Washington State in Pullman, Wash, May 18-19) for the second-straight season, recording 103 points and missing third place by half a point. This year was the fifth straight top-five finish and third straight time the men have surpassed the century mark in point total at the Pac-10 meet. The 4x400m relay team of junior Lorenzo Parham, freshman Seth Amoo, senior Pete Lopez and sophomore Steve Fitch won the only Pac-10 title for the men, winning the event with a Mooberry Track record and NCAA provisional qualifying time of 3:06.03. It was the second straight men's 4x400m Pac-10 title for ASU and fifth overall. Earning runner-up finishes were Amoo in the 400m, senior Brandon Strong in the 1500m, junior Jeremy Rasmussen in the 3000m steeplechase and freshman Trevell Quinley in the long jump. Senior David Wood, the Pac-10 champion in the shot put last year, finished third this season.

The Sun Devils tallied 89 points, matching last year's point total, the highest also since 1994 when they scored 96. Junior Tiffany Greer won her second career Pac-10 long jump title, while junior Lisa Aguilera captured her first crown in the 3000m steeplechase. Greer was responsible for 20 of ASU's points, also placing third in the 100m and fifth in the 200m. Aguilera also finished third in the 5000m. Greer was also a member of the 4x100m team that placed second with an NCAA provisional qualifying time of 44.68. Last Year At The NCAA Outdoor Championships --

The Sun Devils made a bit of history at the 2001 NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. last season, as ASU's men recorded their best national finish since 1981, a span of 20 years. The men tallied 19 points and tied with Texas for 15th, the highest finish since the '81 squad placed fourth. ASU's women secured their best national finish since 1994 (10th-place), recording 18 points to tie for 14th with Appalachian State. Leading the men, senior Marcus Brunson earned three All-America honors with a third-place finish in the 100m, a fourth-place finish in the 200m and a fourth-place finish as a member of the men's 4x400m relay team. On the women's side, senior Kelly MacDonald made the most of her homecoming trip to Oregon, notching third-place finishes in the 3000m steeplechase and the 5000m, adding two more All-America honors to an already impressive resume. ASU took home a total of seven All-America honors: Brunson (100m, 200m), MacDonald (3000m SC, 5000m), sophomore Tiffany Greer (long jump), sophomore Fasil Bizuneh (10,000m) and the men's 4x400m relay team (senior Michael Campbell, Brunson, junior Pete Lopez and senior Tony Berrian).

ASU Men's NCAA Outdoor History --

Dating back to 1942, ASU's men have captured one national team title in 1977, 13 individual titles and one relay title while 86 athletes have earned 144 All-America honors. The last Sun Devil man to win a national title was Pal Arne Fagernes in the javelin in 1996. ASU's men have tallied 17 top-20 finishes, six top-10 finishes and five top-five finishes. Their last top-10 finish was fourth-place in 1981. Under head coach Greg Kraft, the men have steadily increased their national team finishes, from 38th in 1998, to 18th in 1999, 17th in 2000 (tie) and 15th in 2001 (tie).
