2002 Arizona State Track and Field

Pac-10 Championships • Pullman, Wash. • May 18-19

Sun Devils Head To The Palouse For 2002 Pac-10 Championships

This Week --

With the regular season schedule in the books, Arizona State track and field heads to Pullman, Wash. for the 2002 Pac-10 Championships hosted by Washington State University at the Mooberry Track Complex, Saturday, May 18, through Sunday, May 19. The ASU men look to improve upon their fourth place finish from last year, while the women aim to better two-straight fifth-place Pac-10 performances. Stanford is the defending men's champion, while UCLA edged USC by two points for the women's crown last year. Nine conference schools will compete in the two-day meet as Oregon State does not sponsor track and field. Action gets underway Saturday with field events at noon and running events at 12:10 p.m. Sunday, field events begin at 11:30 a.m. and running events commence at 1 p.m.

TV Coverage --

Fox Sports Net will distribute a tape-delayed broadcast of the Pac-10 Championships beginning May 24, at 9 a.m. PT. Check your local listings for air time during that weekend.

Hep/Dec Portion Kicks Off Conference Meet Last Weekend --

The Pac-10 Championships actually got underway last weekend with the multi-event portion of the meet. Washington State's Ellannee Richardson defended her 2001 crown with a win in the heptathlon again this season. Richardson's 5,821 points established a personal best, school record and nation's top performance this season. Billy Pappas from Oregon won the decathlon competition with 7,532 points. Both were named Pac-10 Athletes of the Week. ASU did not enter a participant in either competition. Team scores after multi-events show WSU in first with 16 points on the women's side, while Oregon and USC are tied for first with 14 points.

National Rankings --

In the USTCA Team-Power Rankings as of May 14, the men are fifth in the nation and the women are 14th. Team-Power Rankings are dual meet predictors and demonstrate team depth. For the fourth straight week, the ASU women are absent from the latest Trackwire 25 released May 14. ASU's women opened the 2002 outdoor season ranked 25th and moved up to 21st (tie) in the April 9 poll. ASU's men have not been ranked in all six polls of the outdoor season. Pac-10 teams ranked in the latest Trackwire Top 25 are UCLA's women (No. 1), USC women (No. 3), Arizona women (No. 7), UCLA men (No. 10), Stanford men (tied at No. 11), Oregon women (No. 13), Washington State women (tied at No. 14), USC men (tied at No. 14), Stanford women (tied at No. 18) and Cal women (tied at No. 21). Trackwire's 25 is based on predictions for team standings at the 2002 NCAA Outdoor Championships hosted by Louisiana State in Baton Rouge, La., Wednesday, May 29, through Saturday, June 1.

ASU Men's Pac-10 Championship History --

Last year's Pac-10 Championships saw the ASU men finish fourth in the team race, but the Sun Devils tallied 109.5 points, the second-highest point total in school history, second only to the 1981 Pac-10 Championship team that scored 133 points. In 2000, the men finished third with 101 points, the highest ASU finish since a second-place tie in 1983, a span of 17 years. Dating back to 1979, the men's squad has notched four top-three finishes, including its only Pac-10 title in 1981. Under head coach Greg Kraft, the men have steadily increased their conference finishes from ninth place in 1998, to a fifth-place finish in 1999, to third in 2000. ASU men have won a total of 38 Pac-10 individual or relay titles. Previous champions on the current men's team include senior David Wood (2001 shot put), senior Pete Lopez (2001 4x400m relay team) and junior Jeremy Rasmussen (2000 3000m steeplechase).

ASU Women's Pac-10 Championship History --

For the last two seasons, ASU's women have placed fifth in the Pac-10 team race, the best conference finishes since another fifth-place performance in 1995. ASU's highest overall finish is third, notched five times since beginning Pac-10 competition in 1987. The women's high point total of 104 came with a third place finish in 1993. During Kraft's tenure, the women placed seventh in 1998 and eighth in 1999, before two straight fifth-place finishes in 2000 and 2001. The ASU women have tallied 35 individual or relay Pac-10 titles, including current junior Tiffany Greer in the long jump in 2000.

Last Year --

ASU track and field squads won seven meet titles en route to a fourth-place finish by the men and a fifth-place finish by the women at the 2001 Pac-10 Championships hosted by the University of California-Berkeley. ASU's men dropped one position from their 2000 third-place finish but posted their second-best point total (109.5) in ASU history. With 89 points, the ASU women earned their highest point total since 1994 (96 points). Seniors Marcus Brunson and Kelly MacDonald led the Sun Devils with double-wins in their respective events, as Brunson won both the 100m (10.21) and 200m (20.62), while MacDonald won the 5000m (16:22.75) and the inaugural 3000m steeplechase (10:03.20). Additional winners included senior Tony Berrian in the 400m (45.85), junior David Wood (62-6.5) and the men's 4x400m relay team (3:05.34).

Sun Devils To Watch --

Senior David Wood heads to Pullman aiming to defend his 2001 shot put title and stands in strong position to do so, owning the Pac-10's second-best mark (64-3, set indoors) going into this weekend's championships.
