REVIEW

First-Team All-Pac-10 selection Andre Ethier

The Sun Devils finished the 2003 season with a 54-14 record and were second in the Pac-10 behind Stanford with a 16-8 record... earned final season national rankings of No. 7 (Baseball America, NCBWA), No. 9 (ESPN/Sports Weekly) and No. 10 (Collegiate Baseball)... ASU has now been ranked in the national polls for 78 consecutive weeks dating back to the start of the 2000 season... the national top 10 ranking marks the second highest final ranking during the Pat Murphy era (2nd in 1998) and is the fourth time in the last seven years ASU has finished in the top 12 in the nation... scoring in all 68 games in 2003, the Sun Devils extended their NCAA record consecutive games scoring streak to 501 games... the record, which includes a 335-168-1 record, dates back to April 7, 1995... the Devils connected on 14 grand slams to break the NCAA record of 12 previously set by Oklahoma State in 1996... the Devils opened the season with the best start in ASU history at 28-1 and earned the national No. 1 ranking by Collegiate Baseball and by ESPN/Sports Weekly... the 54 wins are the most by an ASU squad since the 1988 season (60 wins)... ASU was the only team in the NCAA to rank in the top 10 in the four major statistical categories... the Devils were second in batting average (.347), second in scoring (10.03 runs per game), eighth in pitching (3.32 ERA) and ninth in fielding (.973 FLD%)... the Devils also led the Pac-10 in both hitting and pitching, and finished second in fielding... the 3.32 ERA was the best by an ASU pitching staff since 1976 (3.26) and also the best during ASU's 25 years in Pac-10 play... it marked the third lowest ERA during the aluminum bat era (1974-P) and the first time ASU finished a season with an ERA under 4.00 since 1990... the staff combined for 10 shutouts, marking the fifth best effort in ASU history and the most since the 1976 pitching staff had 11 shutouts... three times during the season the Devils held a Pac-10 opponent to under four runs in a three-game series (Cal, Arizona, WSU)... prior to 2003, ASU had held a Pac-10 opponent under five runs in a series only twice dating back to 1979... the offense was equally impressive as the pitching, hitting .347 for the third best season batting average in school history... ASU also ranked third in the record books in runs scored (682), sixth in hits (858), fifth in doubles (160), first in grand slams (14), second in RBI (630) and third in walks (406)... ASU scored 10 or more runs in 35 of their 68 games (52%) and 20 or more runs in three games... ASU's 10.03 run per game average ranks fourth in the single-season record books... the Devils also had the knack for the big inning, scoring five or more runs in 36 different innings... the squad also tallied four innings of 10 or more runs, including a pair of 12-run innings against Washington State (4/27) and New Mexico State (5/30)... ASU hit 80 home runs during the season (1.18 per game), nine more than the 71 combined home runs from 2001 (33) and 2002 (38)... the Sun Devils had all but one regular player hit over .300 during the course of the season... sophomore shortstop Dustin Pedroia was named a first-team All-American by nearly every publication after hitting .404 (120-for-297) with 83 runs scored and 52 RBI... he was also named Pac-10 co-Player of the Year with Stanford's Ryan Garko... Pedroia became only the 16th player in ASU history to hit over .400 in a season and his 120 hits rank fourth in the record books... he broke the ASU and Pac-10 record with 34 doubles and led the team with 41 multi-hit games and recorded four separate hitting streaks of 10 or more games... he was also the only player to start in all 68 games and maintained a .975 fielding percentage, not making an error over his last 26 games... sophomore first baseman Jeff Larish hit .372 (87-for-234) with 18 doubles, two triples and led the team with 18 home runs... Larish set the single-season record with four grand slams and ranks fifth with his 95 RBI... he recorded 78 walks (second most in ASU history) and led the team with a .697 slugging percentage... in addition, Larish tied the ASU single-game records with four doubles (Arizona; 5/25) and nine RBI (SDSU; 1/26)... Larish was named first-team All-Pac-10 and earned several All-America honors... junior designated hitter Jeremy West ended his career with a 24-game hitting streak intact and was the second leading hitter on the team at .381 (77-for-202)... West belted 17 home runs and had 71 RBI while earning first-team ABCA All-America honors... West ended his career tied for eighth with 36 home runs, 10th with 176 RBI and fifth with a .647 slugging percentage... junior outfielder Andre Ethier ended his career with a 23-game hitting streak and was third on the team in hitting at .377 (98-for-260)... Ethier, who was the second-round draft choice of the Oakland Athletics, hit eight of his 10 home runs during his hitting streak... outfielder Travis Buck (.326-4 HR-46 RBI) and left-handed pitcher Erik Averill (8-2, 3.66 ERA) were named freshman All-American... ASU led all Division I schools when 12 Sun Devils were taken in the annual MLB amateur draft, with eight being selected in the first 15 rounds.

Second baseman Steve Garabrants was one of five Sun Devils to earn First-Team All-Pac-10 honors.

ASU SETS NCAA GRAND SLAM RECORD

ASU ended the regular season in grand fashion vs. Arizona (5/25), hitting two grand slams to set the NCAA record for grand slams in a season with their 13th and 14th of the year. The Devils broke the old record set by Oklahoma State in 1996 with 12. After hitting only one grand slam in 2002, the Sun Devils went on a binge in 2003, hitting 14 during the 68-game season. Sophomore first baseman Jeff Larish broke the single-season school record by hitting his fourth grand slam vs. UCLA (4/19). Larish broke the old record of three set by Dave Hudgens in 1977. Steve Garabrants and Jeremy West each hit three slams, Rod Allen had two (both pinch-hit grand slams) and freshmen Ryan Bosch and Travis Buck each had one.

A RECORD BREAKING SEASON

In addition to finishing in the top 10 in the NCAA in the four major statistical categories, the 2003 season also brought about a number of entries into the single-season record books. The 2003 team ranked third in runs scored (682), sixth in hits (858), fifth in doubles (160), second in RBI (630), third in walks (406), tied for third in batting average (.347), fifth in pitching shutouts (10) and third in ERA during the aluminum bat era (3.32). The 54 wins are the most by a Sun Devil squad since the 1988 team finished with 60 victories. ASU also set an NCAA record with 14 grand slams and extended its NCAA record consecutive games scoring streak to 501 games (dating back to April 7, 1995). Individually, several Sun Devils also had record-breaking seasons. Shortstop Dustin Pedroia became only the 22nd player with 100 hits and the 16th player to hit .400. He ranks fourth all-time with his 120 hits and 15th by hitting .404. He set an ASU and Pac-10 record with 34 doubles. First baseman Jeff Larish broke into the record books in several categories, including ranking fifth with 95 RBI and second with 78 walks. He broke the school record with four grand slams and tied the single-game records with nine RBI and four doubles. Designated hitter Jeremy West also tied the single-game records with nine RBI and three home runs.

ASU DOMINATES NCAA STATS

The Arizona State Baseball team dominated the final release of the NCAA statistics as the only team in the nation (283 Division I teams) to rank in the top 10 in the four major statistical categories. ASU, who finished the season ranked No. 7 in the nation (Baseball America) with a 54-14 record, placed second in batting average (.347), second in scoring (10.03 runs per game), eighth in pitching (3.32 ERA) and ninth in fielding (.973 FLD%). In addition, the Sun Devils also ranked fourth in win-loss percentage (.794), fifth in slugging percentage (.529) and 28th in home runs per game (1.18). ASU also broke the NCAA record with 14 grand slams and extended its NCAA record consecutive games scoring streak to 501 games. Individually the Sun Devils also had several players rank nationally. Sophomore shortstop Dustin Pedroia led the nation with 34 doubles (0.50 per game) and was also 31st with a .404 batting average and fourth in toughest to strikeout. Sophomore first baseman Jeff Larish led the nation in walks (1.20 per game), was sixth with 1.46 RBI per game (95 total) and 18th in runs scored per game (1.23).

DOUBLE VISION

Sophomore shortstop Dustin Pedroia set the ASU and Pac-10 single-season record with 34 doubles in 2003. He tied the record of 30 set by Chris Bando in 1978 in the series opener vs. OSU (5/12) and broke the record with a first-inning double against Washington (5/13). Pedroia broke the Pac-10 record of 31 set by Washington State's Mike Kinkade in 1994 vs. Washington (5/18) with a shot down the left field line. Pedroia led the NCAA with 0.50 doubles per game and was only two doubles off the NCAA record of 36.

ASU SINGLE SEASON DOUBLES:

- 34 — Dustin Pedroia, 2003 (Pac-10 Record)
- 30 — Chris Bando, 1978
- 29 — Antone Williamson, 1993
- 29 — Steve Willis, 1988
- 26 — Clay Westlake, 1976

PEDROIA JOINS .400-100 CLUB

Dustin Pedroia joined a pair of elite clubs during his memorable 2003 season. Pedroia became only the 16th player to hit over .400 in a season dating back to the start of varsity baseball at ASU in 1959. With 120 hits, Pedroia also became only the 22nd player to join the 100-hit club. He is only the 11th Sun Devil to record both in the same season. His 120 hits, which included a Pac-10 record 34 doubles and was highlighted by 41 multi-hit games, ranked as fourth most in ASU single-season history. Pedroia will enter his junior season with 202 career hits and a .379 career batting average.

PITCHING PREVAILS IN 2003

Arizona State has always been known as an offensive team, often ranking amongst the top teams in the nation in batting and runs scored. 2003 was no exception, but the pitching also decided to join the hitting in 2003. ASU's pitchers, led by pitching coach Chris Sinacori, led the Pac-10 with a 3.32 ERA, ranking eighth in the NCAA. Senior starting pitchers Ben Thurmond (2.73) and Jered Liebeck (2.88) finished No. 1 and No. 2 in the Pac-10 in ERA and senior Beau Vaughan was second in the league with 105 strikeouts. The 3.32 ERA marks the first time since 1990 that an ASU pitching staff has finished a season under a 4.00 ERA and is the lowest since the 1976 Sun Devil hurlers posted a 3.26 ERA. In fact, since the NCAA adopted the designated hitter and aluminum bats in 1974, the 3.32 ERA is the third lowest.

BEST START IN SCHOOL HISTORY

Arizona State's 28-1 start to the season goes down in the record books as the best start in school history. The 28-1 record includes an 11-game winning streak to start the season before a loss at nationally ranked Long Beach State (Jan. 31) and a 19-game win streak up until suffering a 6-5 loss to Oklahoma (3/14). During the 28-1 start to the season ASU's pitchers posted an impressive 3.11 ERA and the hitters combined for a .360 team batting average. Here is a look at ASU's best starts in school history:

RHP Jered Liebeck was 8-0 during his senior year and finished second in the Pac-10 with a 2.88 ERA.
